DMR Association Announces Shanghai 3G, Wuhan and Gencom as New Members, and Larimart Upgraded Membership

LONDON, UK – 23 August 2012 – The Digital Mobile Radio (DMR) Association warmly welcomes Shanghai 3G (China), Wuhan New Technology Communications (China) and Gencom Two-Way Radio (Australia) as new DMR Association members. We would also like to announce that Larimart has upgraded to Category 1* membership.

“I am delighted to welcome Shanghai 3G and Wuhan to the DMR Association as Category 2* members. Our Category 2 members have a fundamental role in providing end users with the tools and applications they require to exploit the benefits of DMR to the highest extent. We welcome Gencom as a Category 3* member”, said Mario Micheli (of SELEX Elsag, Italy), Chair of the DMR Association.

“I would also like to welcome Larimart as a new Category 1 member. Larimart joined the DMR Association earlier in 2012 as a Category 2 member, so we now look forward to their participation in the Marketing and Technical Working Groups”, Mario stated.

Established in 1997, Shanghai 3G develop, integrate and service professional radio communication systems. They provide total solutions for public security, fire control and government organizations with a focus on wireless telecommunication system integration and tailor-made software programming.

Wuhan New Technology Communication Ltd. manufacture, repair, develop and maintain telecommunication products for analog trunked, analog simulcast, digital conventional/trunked radio systems and their subsidiary products. Providing telecommunication network service to public security departments, Wuhan have many large trunked and simulcast radio networks in China.

Gencom is a leading Hunter and Central Coast Region (Australia) supplier of mobile communication systems. Small business, event organisers, entertainment, hospitality, construction, mining, engineering, manufacturing, government and commercial ventures use our products and services. Gencom design, service and support reliable and cost-effective 2-Way radio communications systems.

Founded in 1960, Larimart S.p.A. is a qualified dealer in the professional and tactical communications fields, offering a wide range of solutions for government agencies as well as Police and Defense forces. Some of their tactical custom products are renowned worldwide. Larimart is a Finmeccanica Company located in Rome, Italy.

* Category 1 is the highest membership tier available to manufacturers of DMR equipment. Category 2 is the second membership tier available to application developers, system integrators, test equipment manufacturers, and test houses. Category 3 membership is designed for users, regulators and network operators.
